To Know Arizona...

is to spend many days, many weeks, many years following its sunfilled miles through desertland, cool refreshing mountains, to explore spectacular canyons large and small, to experience the vastness of "big country," each area differing from another border to border, north, south, east and west.

To know Arizona is to enjoy its skies in many moods, its unusual flora and fauna, cacti and tall pines, desert flowers and mountain wilderness each with its own variety of splendor and color. To become acquainted with its many canyons, to fish its mountain streams, enjoy the variety of lakes within its borders. To know its people of today, and to study the culture of the ancients of the past and visit their pre-historic dwellings.

To know Arizona is to enjoy the sunrise over the mountains, to thrill to spectacular desert sunsets, to feel the cool summer mountain breezes, and lull in the balmy desert winter afternoons . . . to experience a relaxing way of life!

To know Arizona . . .
